History comes to life at annual Bears and Berries festival

JANANI WHITFIELD
Review Contributor

Visions of the area's fur trading past came to life as Fort George and Buckingham House hosted its annual Bears and Berries festival on Saturday, welcoming people from near and far to take in its displays, berry pies, activities, and of course, picturesque site and fort remains by the river.

David Bechtal, a visitor from Calgary, said it was a "complete fluke" that turned out to be a happy accident that he and his family ended up at the site on the same day as the festival.

"I'm actually a descendant of Peter Fidler," he said, referring to the British surveyor, fur-trader and explorer whose statue graces the entrance to Elk Point. His interest in Fidler led him to finding out about Fort George and Buckingham House, which is why his family stopped by at the site – and of course, Elk Point's statue – on the way to Cold Lake's air show.

"We like stopping at Alberta museums," he said with a smile, adding that the centre helped him feel a connection with his ancestor and Canada's fur-trading history. "It's hard not to look at the river and think of canoes with fur-traders going through. You look at the landscape and imagine what it was, to survive the winter out here. My imagination goes to that sort of thing."

See "BEARS AND BERRIES" Page 5

A HUNT THROUGH THE WOODS - Audrey Fleming (centre) was among the group of children searching for treats hidden through Fort George and Buckingham House's historical site, as part of the site's annual Bears and Berries festival. A teddy bear picnic followed afterwards.

Town cracking down on unsightly property

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The Town of Elk Point is cracking down on unsightly property, with representatives of the administration and public works requested to tour the town last Wednesday to compile a list of property that requires attention. Administration was instructed to send letters to owners of those properties requesting that the situation be dealt with.

The Unsightly Property bylaw, modified this past January, states that no owner of property within the town of Elk Point "shall permit the property to be or remain in an unsightly, untidy and/or in a condition of disrepair." Owners are required to cut grass on lanes, boulevards or alleys abutting, flanking or adjoining their property, as well as cutting grass and controlling dandelions and noxious weeds on property they own or occupy, prune, remove or otherwise maintain trees that interfere with or encroach on sidewalks, lanes or other town property, or allow dirt, stones, scrap iron or rubbish to accumulate on their property. Dismantled, wrecked or unregistered vehicles are also prohibited from staying on a property for more than 14 days.

The town manager and/or bylaw officer are authorized under the bylaw to enter any property to inspect it if they have reason to believe that it does not comply with the bylaw.

Business Plan update

CAO Ken Gwozdz provided council with a second quarter update on the town's business plan, showing the current status of projects in progress and reporting on work completed during that time.

Equipment replacement

Council agreed with a suggestion from the town's auditors to set up an equipment replacement reserve for the Elk Point Fire Department. The town's fire pumper truck was purchased in 2003, and will require replacement in 12 years at a potential cost of $500,000. They will now set aside $38,461.54 per year, beginning in 2016, from General Capital Reserves in a GIC toward replacement of the truck. Coun. Lorne Young said the reserve "commits us to doing the right thing" by saving for the eventual replacement.

Chamber fundraising

The Elk Point Chamber of Commerce will be asked to provide a written outline of their plans for raising funds to pay off the loan on the Eco Centre. The chamber's executive will be asked to bring the information to an upcoming council meeting.

Borrowing bylaw

An amended borrowing bylaw passed its first reading at last week's council meeting. Servus Credit Union has agreed that because loan guarantees do not affect the town's debt servicing limit, the town can now use the $150,000 loan, originally requested to guarantee the chamber of commerce loan, to pay toward the installation of power and streetlights in Stage 2A-1 of the Centennial Subdivision.

County supports STARS request

JANICE HUSER
Review Contributor

STARS representative Wendy Fallon received a warm welcome from County of St. Paul council on Tuesday, following a presentation on the role the life-saving organization plays in the area.

Fallon gave council a five-year breakdown on statistics from the area. She noted that the county has two "very busy hospitals," in St. Paul and Elk Point, which increases the number of calls STARS responds to.

On average, over the past five years, STARS has responded to 48 missions per year in the County of St. Paul area. Those numbers translate to over $250,000 per year for STARS. This year, STARS has already responded to 15 missions in the area, said Fallon.

Despite a slower economy, the number of calls STARS responds to continues to increase in Alberta. An aging baby boomer population has an effect on this increase, says Fallon. She also noted that 76 per cent of the organization's revenue is gained through fundraising.

STARS did notice a significant decline in the amount of donations coming in from industry, since the economy slowed down. So, STARS has been approaching municipalities across the province, getting them on board financially.

Fallon says that 50 out of 64 municipalities have already agreed to join the municipal effort. STARS is asking municipalities to contribute $2 per capita/annually. For the County of St. Paul, that translates to the cost of about two and a half missions per year, although some municipalities have chosen to provide more.

Coun. Glen Ockerman said he supported the municipal initiative by STARS, saying, "I think it's time municipalities step up." He added that he knows his ratepayers support STARS, and that's who he represents.

After agreeing to pledge $2 per capital from the 2016 budget, council agreed that the topic should be discussed again, and the municipality should decide

RECYCLING BINS for cardboard, plastic and newspaper are now on site at Elk Point's transfer station.

Recycling pilot project underway

Review Staff

Elk Point's waste transfer station now is the home of a series of recycling bins, as part of a three month pilot project. The bins are located next to the household waste bins near the entrance.

Here is a brief rundown on what can be deposited in each bin for recycling.

CARDBOARD - This would include corrugated cardboard (wafer type, normally tan in color). Boxboard (flat type cereal box, beer box, shoe box style) can also be placed into the cardboard bins. The cardboard should be broken down and flattened in order to get the greatest amount of cardboard in the bin.

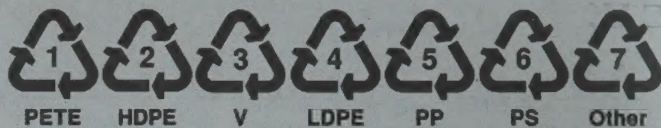

PLASTICS - The plastics bin (currently labeled 'Clean Recyclables Only') is for recyclable plastics labeled 1 to 7. On plastic containers and such there is a triangle (usually on the bottom) with a number inside that triangle (see diagram below).

The number represents the type of plastic it is. If there is no triangle and number, the plastic cannot be recycled. The plastic containers must be empty, rinsed and the caps or lids removed. The exception to this is plastic film (grocery bags, shrink wrap, bubble wrap) where lots of times there is no triangle and number on the bag. This plastic film can be placed in the plastics bin. Please pop the bubble wrap to remove the air to allow for more room in the bin.

NEWSPAPER - This bin is for newspapers only.

In response to requests, Dwight Dalton, president of Quik Pick Waste Disposal, has agreed to place another bin at the site for office paper, magazines and catalogues. Dalton estimates that this bin should be in place within the next week.

Town council

Loan payoff

Council agreed to use $73,523.10 of their remaining 2016 MSI capital funding to pay off a loan from Servus Credit Union for the sewage lagoon, thus saving $168.60 in interest and lowering their debt servicing limit. The capital budget will be amended accordingly.

Credit card payments

While customers will be able to pay property taxes, utility bills, permit fees, bylaw fines and the cost of other goods, services and information at the town office with their debit cards at no additional cost, a service charge will be added, effective Aug. 1, for those using credit cards for that purpose. The charge will cover the costs currently being covered by the town for the use of credit cards.

Runway testing

The Department of National Defense has asked the town for a license to perform an airfield surface field exercise at the Elk Point Airport during which DND personnel will take tiny core samples of the runway and its underlying structure to determine its load bearing capacity. Administration has agreed, provided that the holes are filled and results are shared with the town.

Trail development

A total of 22 trees were donated to the town by the Srdic family and will be used for trail beautification. Town council and the administration said they were very happy with the donation, and also expressed thanks to Public Works superintendent Jay Duffee and his team for planting the trees.

Snow removal

With some months to go before this becomes an issue, a letter is to be sent to two residents advising them that two sidewalks in Elk Point are cleaned of snow as main corridors, under the town's snow removal sidewalk policy.

Muni Corr Golf

Four representatives from the Town of Elk Point will take part in North East Muni Corr's upcoming golf tournament, and agreed to do so at their own expense.

Canada Day

Gwozdz thanked Mayor Parrish Tung, council, town staff and volunteers for their part in making Canada Day a success.

Bulk water station

Bids were to be submitted by the end of last week for the joint County and town project of a bulk water filling station. Three additional sites are being considered as well as the site near the water treatment plant. Construction is slated for November and December, weather permitting.

FUNDRAISING OPPORTUNITY

The County of St. Paul is seeking a non-profit group to assist with cleanup after the LRA rodeo performances. The group will work with a group selected by the Town of St. Paul to clean up the bleachers and entrance area and will receive a $1,250 honorarium. As well, the successful group will work the rodeo supper in 2017 (hand out plates at the door) and receive the full proceeds (approx. $2,700-$3,200)

VISITORS

LET'S PLAY BALL - Elk Point was well represented at the 2016 Alberta Summer Games, held in Leduc this past weekend. The Zone seven girls' softball team included bench coach Angie Pacholek, assistant coach D'Arcy Evans, and players Mackenzie Evans, Abby Baker, Keanna Radcliffe, and Tammy Roberts.

SILVER MEDALIST - Elk Point bantam ball player Dustyn Pankiw was among the Zone 7 baseball team that won the silver medal at Alberta's Summer games, held this past weekend.

TWO MEDALS - Track and field athlete Parker Allen had a big weekend in Leduc at Summer Games, winning both silver in the discus competition and the bronze in the hammer throw.

Big weekend ahead for Pee wee Pumas

The big show is happening this coming weekend down at the Elk Point ball park. For the first time in recent history, the pee wee puma girls will be hosting the softball provincial finals, starting on Friday morning at 11 a.m.

Teams from all over the province will be coming, including some of our local teams from St. Paul, Bonnyville and Vermilion. Lots of hard work by many volunteers has gone into making this an event to remember. The coaching staff has been working hard at practise with the team and playing exhibition games to stay in game shape. The grounds are looking terrific with fresh paint on the dugouts, the grass all nice and green and trimmed and the infields and fences all have been tuned up for the big World Series of softball. I can't think of a better place or volunteers to host this major event. Good luck girls, bring home the gold!!

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week: 'No one respects the umpire's job more than I do, but if I were a manager, I would be probably be ejected three or four times a season fighting for my team.'

Last week's answer to 'The best and fastest way to learn a sport is to watch and initiate a champion,' was Jean-Claude Killy.

Former Elk Point RCMP member faces charges

On June 13, RCMP Cpl. Roy Auger of Slave Lake Detachment was charged with following: one count of fraud under $5,000, and one count of theft under $5,000.

Auger's next court appearance is in St. Paul on Aug. 4, according to an RCMP media release. The charges are the result of misuse of a government credit card while on duty from 2013 to 2015 in Elk Point.

Corporal Auger has been suspended from duty. He will remain off-duty until the criminal charges against him are resolved. His duty status will be reviewed at that time.

His suspension is standard RCMP practice and not a disciplinary measure.

An internal code of conduct investigation is also underway in relation to Auger's conduct and will resume upon completion of the criminal court process.

EDITORIAL

Water under another bridge

It's hard to believe that 30 years ago, the town council of the day was giving serious thought to putting a dam in Atimoswe Creek to increase the town's water supply. Those of us who remember the discoloured and often smelly condition of the town's creek-obtained water back then would probably say, "What were they thinking?"

Today's 24-7 supply of excellent quality water bears little resemblance to the town's supply back then, and everyone that turns on a tap today should be thankful that the proposed dam never happened, and that a later generation of town council had a much clearer picture of the best water supply solution.

RECREATION CORNER...

Good job, July 1 volunteers!

recreation@elkpoint.ca
Review contributor

I would like to thank everyone who helped make Canada Day such a success. I've thanked our sponsors quite a bit and now I'd like to acknowledge the volunteers. Without the amazing support of many individuals in our community a lot of services, recreational facilities, and events like Canada Day would not be possible.

Laverne Wilson was honoured earlier this year at the Love of the Game fundraiser and for good reason. This year for Canada Day he organized and helped with the kids' area. He's been doing this for years. Laverne's daughter Leanne was married just one week before Canada Day so understandably Laverne was busy the whole month of June. I mentioned to my dad, "you know, I haven't seen Laverne in a while, do you think I should ask someone else to help and give him the year off?" My dad responded, "you don't have to worry about Laverne, if he says he'll be there, he will!" Sure enough the first one on site to help set up were Laverne, my dad and Dennell Anderson with Minor Ball. Thank you! They stayed late and made sure all the games were a big hit!

We had some new volunteers this year, the 4-H Multi Club's. Tammy and Daryl Klatt, along with their daughters and Jason Boorse and his daughter came to meetings leading up to the day and held an extremely successful 4-H Achievement Day. I hope they will return again next year. It's so important to involve your kids in volunteer activities; not only does it instill a sense of community in your kids, but it also creates new volunteers. Like the Klatts & Boorses, my kids always help out at any event I'm involved in (and some I'm not), so thank you to my kids as well for their help.

Brianne Greening took on Canada Day Idol for the first time without Dee Pankiw leading the charge. She did a fabulous job and her daughter Dae helped out as well. It was great to see that mother-daughter team put on the show!

Rob Walker provided the sound throughout the day and I must send a special thanks his way. You may not know this but Rob starts setting up around 8:00 a.m. and doesn't close down until after the fireworks. The undertaking is as big as his passion for talented musicians. Rob noted he loved the open mic element in between acts and that the area has a lot of talented performers.

To be continued next week....

WAY BACK WHEN...

Creek dam proposal, seniors' games, different track

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE ELK POINT REVIEW AND LAKELAND REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF JULY 19 IN...

1986

Work got underway on a 3,860-square-foot addition to Elk Point Co-op, with Langevin Builders of St. Paul in charge of the $400,000 project. Creative approaches to financing were studied by Town Council as they looked into the possibility of damming Atimoswe Creek to increase the Town's raw water supply and questioned if this could be combined with plans to upgrade Secondary Highway 646, which would cross the creek.

1991

The Community Initiatives Fund of the St. Paul/Smoky Lake Community Futures approved $70,000 in funding to assist the Town of Elk Point's Fort George-Buckingham House Bicentennial Committee to build the community's capacity for economic development, diversification and expansion. Shanna Baker of the Elk Point 4-H Saddle Slickers was named High Point Grand Champion at the St. Paul District 4-H Light Horse Show.

1996

Elk Point welcomed the Alberta Senior Games torch relay, with more than two dozen torch bearers, including MLA Paul Langevin and the mayors of Elk Point and St. Paul taking part in the 2.2-kilometre relay and Pioneer Circle past-president Lillian Palinka lighting the ceremonial flame. An area adjacent to the East Cemetery was designated for the location of memorial trees, should anyone wish to remember family members or friends with the planting of a tree.

2001

Surveyors honoured a pioneer in their field, with the Alberta Land Surveyors Association unveiling a plaque at the Peter Fidler statue. Elk Point Town Council and Anadarko Canada Corporation debated a proposed drilling site adjacent to the Town's sewage lagoon, a site which the oil company deemed "the ideal spot seismically."

2006

After only seven years of holding an annual Emergency Services Golf Tournament, the community of Elk Point managed to raise a total of $111,000 for STARS air ambulance. A $1.5 million quote for Elk Point's proposed train station set the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce back on its collective heels at their July 5 meeting, but the train station committee was already heading off on a different track, getting prices for various components of the building from locally-based suppliers and contractors.

The County of St. Paul voted to join the St. Paul/Elk Point water commission after hearing a report presented by engineers from Urban Systems, concerning the cost to County residents wanting to tap into the line. A bright, sunny Sunday brought out an excellent crowd for the annual Saskatoon Festival at Fort George and Buckingham House Provincial Historic Site.

That evocative feeling is exactly what Fort George and Buckingham wants to give people, says lead historical interpreter Dayle Oster, who led the young children visiting the site through activities like making plaster casts comparing their hand prints to a bear's paw, t-shirt colouring, and going on a treasure hunt through the site in exchange for treats, followed by a teddy bear picnic.

"The whole purpose of our site is to give people an experience," she said. "If we can give the kids an experience, and they can learn a thing or two about history and about Alberta's landscape, that's our goal."

Oster says over the course of her four month position, before returning to school at the University of Alberta, she leads school groups through the site, followed by being among the planners for festivals such as this one, with support and help from The Friends of The Forts.

The Bears and Berries festival gave the young children a chance to try activities with historical significance too, such as making birch bark baskets.

More survival activities will be on the agenda when the site hosts its second festival of the summer, Bushcraft 1792, to be held on Aug. 27, and giving a people a chance to live like the fur-traders and First Nations did, reckoning with the wild.

"Living off the land and seeing the nature around us is always a beneficial experience," Oster says.

HIGHLIGHTS

July 12, 2016 Council Meeting

Temporary Recycling at Elk Point Transfer Station – Quik Pick Waste Disposal and Blue Wave Recycling Services has set up a temporary recycling service at the Elk Point Transfer Station, as a pilot project. They have supplied containers for clean cardboard, clean recyclable plastics and newspaper and will monitor the volume of materials recycled at this site. Residents are encouraged to use this recycling service.

Planning and Development – The County will enter into an encroachment agreement with the owners of Lot 7, Block 1, Plan 8020711 at Lac Sante to accommodate the portion of their deck that was inadvertently built on the environmental reserve property in front of their cottage back in 1988.

FCSS – Will be holding Drive in Movie Nights on July 22 – Boscombe, July 23 – Lac Bellevue Hall, August 10 – Stoney Lake, August 12 – Heinsburg, August 13 – Lac Bellevue, August 19 – Ferguson Flats, August 26 – Mallaig. Shows begin at dark. They will also be holding Amazing Race and Drop-In Science Afternoons for family members of all ages, throughout the months of July and August. For more information, visit the County of St. Paul and Elk Point FCSS facebook page.

FCSS is also offering free bussing to Haying in the 30s on Saturday July 30. The bus leaves from the ECO Centre in Elk Point at 8:00 a.m. and the County Office at 8:30 a.m. and departs from Haying in the 30s site at 3:30 p.m. Pre-Registration is Mandatory. For further information or to register, contact 780-645-1950 or 780-724-3800.

Water/Sewer – Approximately 4700 metres of pipe has been installed on the Ashmont/Lottie Lake water transmission line. We are also working on a plan to flush the distribution systems at Lottie Lake and Ashmont in anticipation of the completion of the project as well as a plan to upgrade the truckfill in Ashmont.

Work on the Ashmont lagoon expansion project started at the end of June.
